PROJECTS

Human Resourse Management Software at IV Future

 - Working on a HRM application has provided me with a solid understanding of front-end development. I have honed my skills in technologies such as HTML, CSS, TypeScript and frameworks such as React and MobX. I have learned how to make an API call and parse the response, handle errors and manage the request's state.

Personal Portfolio

 - Whether you're interested in exploring my code repositories on GitHub, browsing live demos, or just getting a glimpse of my creative process through project descriptions, I encourage you to dive in and witness the evolution of my skills as a Junior Frontend Developer.
